

ARMISTICE CONFERENCE IS HELD TUESDAY

Demarcation of Neutral Zone and Evacuation of Thrace to Be Taken Up.

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—The Kemal proposals which will be laid formally before the Mudania conference tomorrow are "discussed but not acceptable." This was the decision of the extraordinary council which met at the British embassy this afternoon. It included the allied high commissioners, ambassadors, generals and admirals.

M. Franklin-Bouillon, the French envoy, through whose efforts with Kemal Pasha the conference was made possible, expressed his confident belief to the Associated Press correspondent this evening that an agreement would be reached tomorrow at Mudania. "Kemal will make an even greater effort for peace than he has made for war," he said.

Two Important Issues.

Two of the most important questions to be decided at the conference will be demarcation of a neutral zone on the Asiatic shores of the Dardanelles and at Ismid, and the evacuation of Thrace.

The allies feel that Kemal's demands as outlined by M. Franklin-Bouillon are of such a nature that the Ankara assembly would thereafter be in a position to reject the allied note. Kemal Pasha insists on settlement of the military questions before replying to the allied proposals. He and four of the ministers at Smyrna accepted the allied note in principle, but the attitude of the Ankara assembly is not known.

The allies feel that Kemal's demands could have been made with better grace if the allied note had been fully endorsed by his government. Kemal's armistice terms make no reference to a neutral zone or neutrality of the straits, but the opinion of the allied council was that the most important question to be discussed tomorrow would be the establishment of a provisional neutral line at Chanak, as suggested by General Harington's latest note to the Turkish nationalist leader.

YOAKUM'S PLAN MAY YET BE REALIZED

Fort Smith View of Future of Great Southwestern Railroad System.

Fort Smith, Oct. 2.—The Times-Record says:

Indication that the Frisco system is beginning a new effort to realize the dream of a great trans-continental system are seen by observers of the railroad world in the reported purchase by the Frisco of the International and Great Northern of Texas and the rumors that the Chicago & Alton is the next road to be acquired.

Whether the return of B. F. Yoakum to the board of directors of the Frisco—which occurred several months ago—has any connection with the expansion begun by the purchase of the I. and G. N. is another interesting question.

The significance of the I. and G. N. purchase is well illustrated by a story that has trickled down from the east. A number of railroad men were discussing general railroad development in a club. One of them declared and the others agreed, that the next great transcontinental railroad system in the United States will be founded on the present Frisco system with a Chicago connection from St. Louis, and a Gulf Coast connection from Dallas and Fort Worth.

The purchase of the I. and G. N. gives that Gulf coast connection. The rumored plan to purchase the Chicago & Alton, which is now in receivership, would provide the Chicago connection, and the heart of the system that Yoakum tried to build just before the Frisco debacle in 1913 would be again a living thing.

Coast Connection.

The Frisco is contemplated by the Interstate Commerce Commission as one of the important lakes-to-gulf systems. Its consolidation plan gives the Frisco Chicago connection and Gulf connection, though purchase of the I. and G. N. by the Frisco was not contemplated in the I. C. C. consolidated plan. That road is given to the Missouri Pacific in the commission's outline.

The Frisco already has a powerful system. From St. Louis south to Memphis, and southeast to Jacksonville, Fla., it has a direct line. From St. Louis and Kansas City through southern Missouri, eastern Kansas, western Arkansas, all of Oklahoma and north and central Texas, it has a network of line, providing direct routes to the south as far as Fort Worth and Dallas.

Purchase of the I. and G. N. gives the Frisco direct connection from Fort Worth to Galveston with a branch north from Houston to Palestine, connection with Austin, San Antonio and Laredo, connecting these with national lines of Mexico, and a branch northeast of Longview, Tex.

If the Frisco had a connection from Longview, Texas to Paris, Texas direct traffic from St. Louis to the gulf might easily move through Fort Smith on the central division. But the Frisco through Fort Smith ends at Paris, Texas and passenger trains to Dallas over this route use the Santa Fe tracks. The Frisco's heavy traffic route from Dallas to St. Louis and Kansas City is more likely to be through Madill, Okmulgee, Sapulpa, Tulsa and Springfield.

Railroad observers who watched the Frisco in 1913 under the load of fixed guarantees and over-expansion expressed the view that its failure was due to slow development of the country to keep pace with the faith that inspired Yoakum in his expansion plans. More than nine years have passed since the Frisco receivership, and the time may be ripe for realization of the dream. At any rate, Yoakum is back on the board, and the I. and G. N. purchase may mean that Yoakum's empire building plan may be again under way.
